

Project Manager – 12 Month Contract

Renaissance® is a leading provider of assessment technology to primary and secondary schools. Renaissance products promote success amongst students of all ages and abilities through personalised assessment and practice in reading and maths.

Our software helps to enhance literacy and numeracy skills, support differentiated instruction, and personalise learning to optimise student development. Immediate feedback and detailed reporting equip teachers with the information needed to monitor progress and measure growth. Worldwide, we support over 18 million students, operating in 96 countries.

We have an opportunity for a Project Manager to join the dynamic Renaissance Special Projects team for 12 months.

This role offers an exciting opportunity to lead on large scale projects, including external partnerships, research, international trials, consultancy and product development. This would suit someone who is team orientated, able to balance a complex workload and capable of navigating challenging situations.

Although the position is based in London, it involves travel and overnight stays (under normal conditions). The Project Manager will work closely with the Special Projects Team Manager and Project Specialists to achieve success in multiple, high profile, high-stakes projects within the company.

You should be self-driven with strong time management skills and have experience seeing a project from beginning to end. You'll have an understanding of the education sector and keen interest in current issues and research in this area. You must be able to communicate sensitive data tactfully with senior internal and external stakeholders, managing expectations and timelines. You must be data-literate and data-driven and have excellent presentation and written communication skills. Above all, you will be enthusiastic about accelerating learning for all.

To apply, send your covering letter, outlining why you are the best person for the role and your CV to jobs@renlearn.co.uk with the title 'Project Manager'.
